Duty of Disclosure

Your Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into an insurance contract, you have a duty to tell us anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect our decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until we agree to insure you.

You have the same duty before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate an insurance contract.

What you do not need to tell us

You do not need to tell us anything that:

- reduces the risk we insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- we know or should know as an insurer; or
- we waive your duty to tell us about.

If you do not tell us something

If you do not tell us anything you are required to, we may cancel your contract or reduce the amount we will pay you if you make a claim, or both.

If your failure to tell us is fraudulent, we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

Where your policy is claims made and notified the following will apply

If your policy, or a part of your package policy, provides cover on a claims made or claims made and notified basis, the following two sections will apply, but not otherwise.

Claims Made And Claims Made And Notified Coverages

These coverages apply only to claims that are either first made against you during the period of insurance or both first made against you and notified to us in writing before the expiration of the period of the insurance cover provided by your policy. If your Policy does not have a continuity of cover provision or provide retrospective cover then your Policy may not provide insurance cover in relation to events that occurred before the contract was entered into.

Notification Of Facts That Might Give Rise To A Claim

Section 40(3) of the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth) ("ICA") only applies to the claims made and the claims made and notified coverages available under your policy.

Pursuant to Section 40(3) of the ICA, and only pursuant to that section, if you give notice in writing to us of facts that might give rise to a claim against you as soon as reasonably practicable after you become aware of such facts but before the insurance cover provided by your policy expires, then we are not relieved of liability under your policy in respect of the claim, when made, by reason only that it was made after the expiration of the period of the insurance cover provided by your policy.

Other Important Information

Subrogation

You may prejudice your rights with regard to a claim if, without prior agreement from us (such agreement not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed), you make agreement with a third party that will prevent us from recovering the loss from that, or another party.

Your policy contains provisions that either exclude us from liability, or reduce our liability, if you have entered into any agreements that exclude your rights to recover damages from another party in relation to any loss, damage or destruction which would allow you to sustain a claim under your policy.

Utmost Good Faith

Every insurance contract is subject to the doctrine of utmost good faith which requires that all parties to the contract, including third parties, should act toward each other with the utmost good faith. Failure to do so on your part may prejudice any claim or the continuation of cover provided by us. Our failure to do so could result in a civil penalty.

Not a Renewable Contract

Cover under your policy will terminate at expiry of the period of insurance specified in your policy document. If you wish to effect similar insurance for a subsequent period, it will be necessary for you to complete a new proposal form prior to the termination of your current policy so that terms of insurance and quotation/s can be agreed.

Change of Risk or Circumstances

It is vital that you advise us as soon as reasonably practicable of any departure from your “normal” form of business (i.e. that which has already been conveyed to us).

For example, acquisitions, changes in location or new overseas activities. Please refer to the territory clause of your policy and the sanctions limitations contained within your policy. You can contact us using the below details under ‘Contact Us’.
