Examples of Success Stories

Pump and Electrical Equipment Distributor

To determine if the exposure was within Chubb's appetite, Chubb's underwriters capitalized on the expertise of the risk engineering team and arranged for a number of surveys. The product triage survey team offered recommendations based on their knowledge and expertise as well as a thorough online review of each business. The onsite and virtual surveys were a bit more complicated, with teams going to the location itself or viewing it through video to determine if the businesses' risk management controls were acceptable. Once the surveys were completed, Chubb's underwriters presented the broker with a comprehensive insurance program within their target pricing and quote-by date.
