International Travel

Medical, Security, and Travel Benefits for Schools, Non-Profits, Work & Travel
Programs, and More

Traveling internationally offers opportunities to explore new places and experience new cultures. It also can present a unique set of risks.

Those traveling abroad may be faced with unexpected emergency situations—including accidents, severe illnesses, natural disasters, political uprisings, and travel disruptions—that can be difficult to navigate in a foreign country. Organizations that sponsor out-of-country programs need an effective way to help ensure the safety of and provide insurance protection for their travelers. Furthermore, they need the support of a global network of experts that can respond quickly and ensure quality care when emergencies happen.

At Chubb Accident & Health, we have decades of experience in supporting the specialized travel risk management needs of our clients and their travelers. We share your commitment to your travelers' safety and well-being, and we've designed our program to help you proactively manage worldwide travel risk and be there in your time of need. By integrating insurance benefits and 24/7 assistance services, we deliver seamless and comprehensive coverage anywhere in the world.

We'll help minimize the risks, so you and your travelers can focus on the opportunities that lie ahead.

Claim Scenarios

Situation	Risk	Action	Outcome
 A 54-year-old professor on assignment in Belize suddenly had a heart attack while teaching class. Being on assignment for only three months, the professor didn't have a local doctor in Belize.	If the professor didn't get treated at the proper facility right away, the condition could have worsened or even caused death.	Authorities were called and the professor was rushed to the local hospital. Travel Assistance was activated, and it was determined that the professor should be transferred to a local medical center of excellence for the best treatment. The professor's spouse was flown to the hospital for support.	The professor received immediate medical attention. Our network of medical professionals provided immediate oversight early on, ensuring the best medical care. The professor's spouse was able to be there, and the university's Risk Manager was kept in the loop every step of the way.
 A volunteer in Nicaragua fell and broke her arm in a small coastal town where she'd been volunteering.	The volunteer was in pain and needed to seek treatment right away. The accident occurred after 5 p.m.	The volunteer called our Travel Assistance team, which found an after-hours clinic that had onsite X-rays.	Our Travel Assistance network was able to locate a clinic with extended hours, as well as arrange for transportation from the town to the clinic.
 A 20-year-old female student woke up in her dorm room in Rome, Italy, with excruciating stomach pains. Not yet fluent in Italian, she didn't know how to reach a local doctor.	Without a plan for treatment, the student's condition could have worsened.	The student called Travel Assistance, which was able to get an appointment at a local physician who was only two blocks away from her dorm.	The Travel Assistance network was easy and efficient to access. The student didn't have to worry about language barriers, as Travel Assistance ensured the doctor spoke English.
 A group of U.S. students was studying abroad in Hong Kong when protests against the government began in December 2019.	Mass protests and violent conflict occurred between the protesters and police in various districts of Hong Kong.	The group of students in Hong Kong was identified as being in potential danger. As the situation escalated, we moved the students out of their dorm rooms and ensured their safe return to the U.S.	By proactively monitoring the situation, our Travel Assistance network was able to remove the students from Hong Kong before the violence escalated.

The claim scenarios described are hypothetical and are offered solely to illustrate the types of situations that may result in claims. They are not based in actual claims and should not be compared to an actual claim. The precise coverage afforded is subject to the terms and conditions of the policy as issued.
